Dear Mr. Killelea:

As the owners of a business, Pullman Heating and Electric, in Pullman WA we are writing to comment on the proposed storm water plan.
We are totally for clean rivers and support the concept of discharge monitoring and control. In constructing our new building we have created an oversized detention pond to eliminate runoff from the building and parking lots.
However, in reading the draft proposal we find it to be incredibly confusing and burdensome to property owners and businesses. The cost of implementation could easily put some of the companies out of business.
Please do what you can to simplify the proposal and make it as simple and economical as possible for businesses to comply with.

Thanks for your time:

Jon and Cheryl Clancy
