Dear Mr. Killelea:

I have been employed by a wrecking yard for 12 years. During this time I have seen the rules and regulations from the Department of Ecology become more and more strict. With each new change in the rules, it causes our facility to become less profitable and once we reach a certain threshold it will cause us to simply shut down. Yet, every Tom, Dick & Henry are allowed to keep any number of junk vehicles on their property without following any rules or regulations.

The major polluters of our environment are not the licensed auto recycler.

Sincerely,

Robert N. Johnson
