Hi,

It is taking King County Water & Land staff a long time to review all the listing criteria and the listed waterbodies. In many cases we are doing our own analysis of our data relative to the criteria and documentation of prior written agreements we have had with Ecology. I have bits and pieces of this analysis already, but not all, and not in a coordinated fashion. To avoid the situation that we have had on previously lists...

I am the lone King County Water and Land Resources contact
I am trying to provide you with one and only one set of comments

Because some comments are still dribbling in to me, and I need to compile them all, and share them internally as well, how firm is the March 21st comment deadline?

I appreciate your patience :)

Richard
