Proposed Amendment to Air Emissions Permit for The Boeing Company,
Boeing Everett

What project is proposed for amendment?

The Department of Ecology (Ecology) issued Prevention of Significant Deterioration (PSD) Permit No. PSD-14-01 (original permit) on September 10, 2014 to The Boeing Company (Boeing), which allows them to manufacture new models of Boeing's 777 airplanes at their Everett, Washington facility. The new planes are referred to as 777X models and the project is referred to as the 777X Project. The proposed amendment, will allow Boeing to install the following additional units but requires the emissions limits in the original permit to remain unchanged:

- A second wing spar spray booth.
- Three additional small quantity paint mix booths.
- Two additional coating equipment cleaning booths.
- One additional emergency diesel generator.
