

From: gumbysharon@msn.com
Sent: Friday, March 05, 2010 6:55 PM
To: ECY RE AQComments
Subject: Transalta

I am a boilermaker #502, for over 37 yrs. It seems that the "environmentalists will accept nothing less than shutting down transalta or converting the steam plant to natural gas. They are unwilling to even listen to clean coal technology or the cost and ecological impact of bringing natural gas lines into transalta and converting to natural gas rather than using clean coal technology to make , what is already one of the cleanest in the nation, most likely cleaner than gas, in time. And save a large part of our economy and union living wage jobs by letting transalta stay here and keep making electricity and money. Do you think Boeing has been pulling out of Washington because of the states hostile business environment and it's unwillingness to work with the needs of Boeing?

Dave Grundvig

Sent from my iPhone