

From: Wes and Katherine
To: SW Permit Comments
Date: Sunday, October 23, 2011 4:14:29 AM

I find the onerous storm water data collection and methodology to just be another albatross around the peoples neck formulated by the government to empower government and again remove money from the workers and producers with no end except control of individuals to fit some utopian desire to control virtually all endeavors of Man.

Where there is no problem, create one seems to be the EPA's goal.

Wes Wotring