Storming the Sound is a FREE one-day conference (five-dollar lunch donation requested) for environmental and sustainability educators in the South Puget Sound region. This is a great opportunity for teachers, environmental organizations with education programs, and students with an interest in a career in environmental education to:

- Learn about other Puget Sound environmental education programs.
- Bring home practical strategies and tactics you can use.
- Gain skills and insights with experts and capable peers.
- Share insights and network with other educators.
- Engage and grow in sessions where everyone is a participant.
- Exchange ideas and experiences to help you develop new perspectives and approaches.

Conference Highlights Include:

Key Note Address: Presented by Chris Townsend, Special Assistant to the Executive Director, Puget Sound Partnership. Is a healthy Puget Sound within our reach? Working together, we can recover Puget Sound.

Breakout Sessions Include:

- ❖ Participation in Field Investigation: How to get kids outdoors and exploring their environment.
- ❖ Using Art in Nature: How to combine areas of interest and make the most of observation.
- ❖ Action Based Projects: How to get kids involved in real world projects that help the environment.
- ❖ Teaching through story: a creative way to get kids involved in culture, history, ecology and exchanging ideas.
